Kuhn Trial Starts; Bund Aide Barred

NEW YORK (AP)—Fritz Kuhn, leader of the German-American Bund, went on trial today charged with the theft of $5,641 in bund funds, after Judge James G. Wallace denied defence motions for postponement and a change of venue.

Kuhn, who maintained he could not get a fair trial in New York, is being tried on 10 counts of a 12-count indictment.

The bund leader arrived in the courtroom accompanied by his lawyers and by Gustav Elmer, general organizer for the bund. Elmer was ordered to leave, since no spectators were to be permitted until a jury was chosen.

Nazi Parachute Spy Plot Reported

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The newspaper Paris Soir reported today that Netherlands authorities had discovered a German plot to drop 1,000 spies in parachutes with the mission of preventing the execution of plans to flood the Netherlands in case of invasion.

The spies would be dressed in uniforms of the Netherlands army, the report said. It was for this purpose that German agents attempted to smuggle uniforms out of the Netherlands into the Reich, the newspaper added. Three Netherlands Nazis have already been arrested in connection with the alleged conspiracy.

Munich Sees Hess; Death Rumors End

BERLIN (CP)—Rudolph Hess, Chancellor Hitler's deputy and third-ranking Nazi after Hitler and Marshal Goering, today laid wreaths in Munich at the memorial to the 16 Nazis killed in the unsuccessful beer cellar putsch of 1923.

Hess acted for Hitler. His public appearance put an end to rumors that Hess was killed when an explosion occurred last night in the same beer cellar.

ARMY'S TALLEST BROTHERS MAKE GOOD POLICE—When Douglas Smith of Belleville joined his brother-in the ranks of the Hastings and Prince Edward regiment at Pictou, officers decided they had the biggest pair of brothers in the Canadian army. Douglas (left) is six feet six inches tall, weighs 220 pounds, and hasn't a coat yet because it has to be specially tailored. J. R. Smith (right) is the same height, but weighs only 195. They dwarf Pte. Charles Ayres, who stands five feet six. J. R. is already acting as a military policeman, while Douglas is slated for the same duty shortly.

No Early War Loan In Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—The Australian loan council, representing the Commonwealth and the six state governments, met today to discuss war financing and decided not to begin the issue of war loans at this time.

Australia's war commitments already undertaken are estimated to cost $90,000,000 (about $306,000,000) in a full year, exceeding by 10 per cent the national income.

The government proposes to raise a large proportion of its war costs from taxation.

POSTAL CLERK GETS NEW TRIAL

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Court of Appeal today ordered a new trial for Daniel Joseph McCarthy Jr., 25-year-old postal clerk convicted by an assize court jury here recently of the theft of a letter containing $2.50 from the Vancouver post office.

McCarthy was sentenced by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson to three years' imprisonment.

The appeal court judges granted the new trial on the grounds of a misstatement of evidence by the trial judge in his charge to the jury.

Must Give Hand To Britain, Says Premier Pattullo

"The paramount issue is the winning of the war not merely for the sake of saying we won but for our freedom and liberty and all those things we hold most dear in life both for ourselves and all the people in the world," Premier Pattullo said in the B.C. Legislature this afternoon.

The Premier foresaw new alignments and measures arising from the war. What they would be he could not say.

"When our King is at war we are at war," the Premier stated, asking the House "if we should stand on this side of the Atlantic and wave him good luck or go over there and give him a hand?"

It was a mistake to deprecate one's own country in comparison to others to point an argument, he said after referring to speeches which compared Canada invidiously with other countries.

By and large great and steady progress has been made in British Columbia all along the line, the Premier said, mentioning health, education, and industrial expansion. In spite of unemployment and other conditions British Columbia was becoming closer and closer to economic security, and there were greater opportunities today than ever before.

DEMAND BY GANDHI

BOMBAY (AP)—A demand for India's political freedom, delivered by Mohandas K. Gandhi, added new fuel today to the fire of Indian unrest which Britain has been trying to subdue pending the end of the war.

Rejecting the British contention India must achieve unity before acquiring Dominion status, the 70-year-old Hindu Nationalist leader declared at Wardha that only through "freedom from bondage" can his people solve their internal problems.

"Once a declaration to free India, not in easy stages but at once, is made," Gandhi said, "an interim solution will be found easy. The protection of the rights of minorities will then become simple."

Wires End Race News in Illinois But Radio Works

CHICAGO (AP)—Wire service to M. L. Annenberg's racing news customers—mainly bookmakers—was suspended at noon today throughout Illinois.

The Illinois Bell Telephone Company took down facilities serving an estimated 1,000 customers and by noon the network stretching into elaborate theatre-seated parlors in the well-to-do neighborhoods and into rear rooms of cigar stores in shabby districts had ceased functioning.

Counsel for Annenberg's Nationwide News Service Inc. It directed the company to maintain its cross-country operations with nationwide until November 15, when further arguments will be heard on Annenberg's move for an injunction to prevent the company from severing its service.

The court, however, did not interfere with the service of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to Annenberg's Nationwide News Service Inc. It directed the company to maintain its cross-country operations with nationwide until November 15, when further arguments will be heard on Annenberg's move for an injunction to prevent the company from severing its service.

BROKERS AT WORK

Business as usual was the rule among some bookies. They declined to say where their information was coming from.

The usual number of customers gathered at one place before noon. At a half minute to 12, the voice on the loud speaker finished announcing the line-ups at Pimlico, and said: "Will be back later."

But he was heard no more. A new voice came on a second loudspeaker.

"The first race at Narragansett off at 1.17," it said.

The announcer gave no "call" as under the old system. Previously the positions of the various horses were announced during the race.

"A photo finish at Pimlico," the voice said. Later it came on again.

"Results of the first race at Narragansett: Isoline won, paying $8.70, $4.50 and $3.50; Free Again was second."

Some bettors were inclined to believe the information was coming via short wave from Havana, Cuba.

Nazis Seize 2 Ships

BERGEN, Norway (AP)—Two Norwegian steamers, the 5,113-ton Geisha and the 810-ton Susanna, it was reported today, have been seized by the Germans.

VICTORIA YOUTHS HELD FOR SLAYING

Two Victoria Chinese youths, aged 12 and 14 years, today were brought to the juvenile detention home at Vancouver pending investigation into the slaying of Reuben Cooper, found at Clayburn, B.C., early yesterday.

Inquest into the death of the 55-year-old storekeeper will open in Mission, several miles from Clayburn, today.

Deputy Chief Sidney W. Bass of the New Westminster police department is checking fingerprints found in the store. Cooper was shot by burglars in the store.

The two youths are both Victorians, the elder having been sent to the Industrial School from here after an appearance in Juvenile Court last January.

The youth was found in possession of a stolen revolver when he was arrested by Sgt. S. H. Wilkinson on January 14. Sgt. Wilkinson stalked him in an alleyway off Douglas Street and grabbed the youth before he had an opportunity to use the gun.

Since that time he was treated as a psychopathic case while under detention.

Princess Asks Sum From Rothermere

LONDON (CP)—Princess Stefani Hohenzollern Walderberg testified in her breach of contract suit against Lord Rothermere today that the publisher one day endowed one with the power of a queen and the next day put one in the gutter.

Questioned about a letter from Lord Rothermere asking her to stop importuning for money and jewelry, the princess said she had reimbursement of expenses and in 10 years "he has given me one bracelet and one diamond clip for a birthday present, and both together cost about £1,280 (about $5,720)."

The princess said she saw Hitler often at Lord Rothermere's instruction.

Questioned about a letter Hitler sent to the publisher beginning—"You had the great kindness to communicate to me a number of suggestions..." the princess said she had communicated the suggestions at the publisher's request.

At his request she had entertained "royally" members of the German delegation to the Coronation. At least five of them had stayed at her house.

Princess Stefani, divorced Hungarian princess, charges that the publisher of the London Daily

Blast Shows Nazi Party Split, Declare French

PARIS (AP)—French diplomatic circles today interpreted the attempt to assassinate Adolf Hitler at Munich as indicating a split in the Nazi Party over Germany's alliance with Soviet Russia.

One opinion reflected in the French press was that anti-Soviet elements attempted to kill Hitler to gain control of the party.

Diplomatic sources said last night's blast was likely to have widespread diplomatic and military repercussions and might possibly push Hitler into a sudden move.

The newspaper Intransigent said the incident showed that "the Gestapo (secret police) backbone of the regime, has either failed of its duty or itself participated in the plot."

REACTION IN BRITAIN

LONDON (CP)—The Munich bombing was featured in the British press today with greater prominence than any story since the declaration of war.

Huge headlines stressing Adolf Hitler's escape and blacktype emphasis placed on the fact the bomb exploded less than 15 minutes after he had left the famous beer hall made editorial comment virtually unnecessary.

The London Star's headline read: "Fifteen minutes saved Fuehrer," while the Evening News Poster cried: "Hitler just misses it."

Some headlines said Rudolf Hess, the No. 3 Nazi, was "reported killed." Some newspapers even printed obituary notices for Hess. Columns were devoted to previous attempts on Hitler's life and history of the 1923 beer cellar putsch.

The Nazi attempt to blame the British secret service was countered here with a suggestion in some quarters that the alleged attempt on Hitler's life might have been faked by the Nazis themselves in an attempt to rally the nation at the Fuehrer's side, in a manner similar to that in which the party gained absolute power through the burning of the Reichstag in 1933.

Mail broke a contract to pay her $5,000 ($22,250) a year as his personal political representative in Europe.

Vast Spy Hunt Follows Attempt On Hitler's Life

BERLIN (AP)—Henrich Himmler, head of all German police forces, tonight offered 300,000 marks ($120,000) in foreign exchange to anyone abroad providing information leading to the arrest of the persons who tried to kill Adolf Hitler in yesterday evening's Munich beer cellar explosion.

The reward would be paid at any German consulate. It is in addition to the $240,000 already offered inside Germany.

BERLIN (AP)—Adolf Hitler, safe behind the walls of his new chancellery in Berlin, today viewed photographs of the first officially disclosed serious attempt to kill him since he assumed power in 1933.

Meanwhile the police combed the nation for perpetrators of last night's explosion in the Munich Burgerbrau cellar which would have buried Hitler under nine feet of debris had he not left the "beer hall" putsch anniversary observance earlier than expected.

The blast in the Burgerbrau Hall, a shrine of Nazidom, came 11 minutes after Hitler had left to entrain for Berlin and killed seven of his veteran followers and wounded 63 others, 29 of them seriously.

The British secret service and Jews were charged with the attempt on Hitler's life, but officials said so far there was no trace of persons directly responsible for what "must have been a long and carefully-planned attempt."

The original government reward of 500,000 marks for information leading to seizure of the guilty was increased today to 600,000 marks ($240,000) by an anonymous additional offer of 100,000 marks ($40,000). It is one of the largest rewards posted in European history.

TOP NAZIS ESCAPE

None of the high Nazi officials who accompanied Hitler to Munich for the annual celebration were reported among the killed or injured.

Hitler finished delivering his speech, in which he attacked Great Britain and asserted the war would go on, at 9:05 p.m. (12:05 p.m. P.S.T.) and left the hall at 9:10 p.m. The terrific explosion, which tore loose the rafters and felled a large column immediately behind the rostrum, occurred at 9:21 p.m., officials stated.

(British official sources scoffed at charges the British secret service and Jews were responsible, and a spokesman declared: "Doubtless the gentlemen who engineered the Reichstag fire of 1933 know how to do these things.")

Hitler arrived in Berlin by train at 10:30 a.m. today (4:30 a.m. P.S.T.) and was met at the Anhalter station by Field Marshal Hermann Goering and Dr. Hans Lammers, liaison officer between the wartime ministerial council and the Fuehrer.

CONSULTS ARMY CHIEF

They drove immediately to the chancellery, where a conference was held with Col. Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the high command of armed forces, and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop.

Officials congratulated Hitler and later Italian Ambassador Bernardo Attolico led a procession of diplomats to the chancellery to pay their respects.

It was assumed wholesale arrests were being made by the Gestapo (secret police) in the Munich region, but officials declined to disclose the number.

Officials charged with the security of the Fuehrer's person had the scare of their lives and the energy with which they plunged into the hunt was shown by the great reward offered for information.

A semi-official statement said "clues indicate the plot originated abroad," and it was expected, therefore, that Germany's borders would be watched carefully for evidence of intrigue.

GREAT DRIVE

The supposed clues were not disclosed. But there were signs that the Gestapo, the Nazi secret police, and the Schutzstaffel, Hitler's black-shirted elite guard, were launching a spy hunt and a drive to wipe out enemies of the Nazi regime in politics and the war.

A death list announced by the propaganda ministry disclosed that one of the seven dead was a woman. She was believed to be Frau Marie Henle, cashier of the beer cellar, but was not definitely identified.

Others were Franz Lutz, Wilhelm Kaiser, a radio announcer named Weber, Leonhard Reindl, Emil Kasberger and Eugen Schacht.

Hitler's Police Safeguards Failed to Work at Munich

By the Canadian Press

The explosive which was planted in Munich's beer cellar and which killed seven Nazis Wednesday night just after Adolf Hitler had spoken frustrated efforts of one of the most elaborate systems human ingenuity could devise for protection of a chief of state.

Constantly since his ascension to power Hitler has driven crowded streets, invariably standing erect in his car. He has talked intimately with Germans in all walks of life at various celebrations. He has talked to audiences of thousands, apparently with no fear of the danger.

But behind the scenes was a crack Nazi organization to guard his life.

As far back as March, 1937, Hermann Goering, as Prussian premier, issued a broadcast warning against any attempt on the life of Hitler when he was to address the nation on March 21, the anniversary of Germany's decision to rearm despite the Versailles treaty.

Typical of the precautions are those taken when Hitler visits the annual automobile show. The show is closed to ordinary visitors. Every nook and corner of the building is searched carefully before Hitler appears, for fear some would be assassin might be in hiding.

During the annual Nuremberg convention inhabitants of that city are warned they may take no guests, not even relatives, for the duration of the convention except by special permission of police.

Hitler is attended constantly by close bodyguards who travel with him and watch the door of his bed-chamber. Ordinarily he has six adjutants at his disposal who trail behind him.

When Hitler travels by rail a pilot locomotive runs ahead of his train to guard against any attempt to wreck it.

The Munich beer hall, from which the former housepainter first broadcast his name to the outside world, has been for years a sacred spot to Nazis.

It was there that Hitler, a disillusioned veteran of the first Great War, organized the abortive, now historic putsch in which he and his band of Nazi followers attempted to march on Berlin as Premier Mussolini successfully marched on Rome.

It is the Buergerbrau beer cellar in Rosenheimer Street. With that unsuccessful putsch in 1923 the world outside Germany first heard of Hitler. With its failure, Hitler fell into obscurity for almost a decade.

Nazis 'House-arrest' Ex-Crown Prince

ZURICH, Switzerland (CP)—Havas)—Former Crown Prince Wilhelm has been placed under virtual "house arrest" at his estate near Potsdam because his appearance on the streets of Potsdam caused popular demonstrations in favor of a monarchist restoration, according to reports reaching here from Germany today.

The one-time heir to the German throne was said to have given his word of honor two weeks ago that he would not attempt to leave his estate.

The monarchist demonstrations provoked were severely repressed, the report said. Police Chief Wedel was subsequently called to Berlin and his "sudden" death was reported four days later. It was hinted that Wedel had been "purged" for having permitted any such public demonstrations of anti-Nazi feeling.

Wilhelm has never in any way been associated with the Nazi regime, although he has never voiced any criticism of Adolf Hitler.

In 1936, the former Crown Prince, who had been living a life divorced from politics of any kind, ventured to congratulate Premier Mussolini on the conquest of Ethiopia, and was reproved by a Hitler aide for "meddling."

U.S. Airplanes for Training in Canada

LONDON (CP)—The British government is not hopeful that the Belgio-Dutch peace offer will lead to an armistice, it was indicated in a speech read at the Mansion House today by Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The speech, which surveyed the nation's war effort, was written by the Prime Minister, but Mr. Chamberlain was prevented by a sudden attack of gout from attending the luncheon of the new Lord Mayor, Sir William Coxen.

Referring to the leaders of Germany as "stiff-necked men" who understood only the language of force, the Prime Minister's speech declared that "since we have been compelled to take up arms, we shall not lay them down until we are assured that Europe has been freed from the threats which so long have paralyzed the life of her peoples."

Then the speech continued: "No doubt you have all read the communication which has been addressed by Their Majesties the King and the Queen of the Belgians to His Majesty the King, as well as to the President of the French Republic and to the German Chancellor.

"Everyone will appreciate the lofty motives which have actuated the two sovereigns in thus offering their good offices in the hope of avoiding further extension of the war.

HITLER'S PAST SCANNED

"I confess I am not very hopeful of a satisfactory response from the German Chancellor in view of past experience. Nevertheless we do not want to continue the war a day longer than is necessary if a satisfactory settlement can be obtained in another way."

"In due course it will be the duty of His Majesty's government to tender to His Majesty our advice as to the nature of the reply he should make, but before we can do so it will naturally be necessary for us to consult the

Test Tube Rabbit, First 'Synthetic' Mammal, Lives

NEW YORK—A russet-colored rabbit with soft, friendly eyes munching a carrot at the New York Academy of Medicine. To all appearances, she was blissfully unaware of the sensational fact that she was the first "synthetic" mammal ever produced by man.

And maybe it was just as well, for her sake, that no known magic by the doctor who "produced" her could impress her with the following facts of her birth:

She had no father. She was conceived in glass. She was born of a rabbit that was not her own mother.

In scientific parlance, 34-year-old Dr. Gregory Pincus of Worcester, Mass., succeeded in producing her by removing an egg from the ovum of a female rabbit and fertilizing it with a salt solution. The egg was then transferred to the uterus of a second rabbit, acting as an "incubator," where it passed through normal embryonic stages and was born normally.

The startling jugglery of her creation, however, left no traces for the eye of an observer. Her rich, russet coat was that of any fine Chinchilla rabbit. Though only nine months old, she has already borne a normal litter of offspring. Like any other of her species, she seemed to be enjoying her carrot.

Dr. Pincus hastened to explain that the achievement in no respect justifies the prophecies of imaginative fiction-writers about "mechanical man-making" and "test-tube supermen."

On the contrary, the importance of the feat lies in the now proven ability to remove from the body and project under the microscope the processes of egg fertilization, division and growth. It suggests the possibility of learning the exact mechanics and chemistry, still unknown, by which the sperm makes an egg fertile. If this is learned, it may be of great value in treating sterility in humans.

Dr. Pincus explained that the artificial impregnation of the female egg can be made either by the controlled salt solution or by subjecting the egg briefly to a temperature of 113 degrees Fahrenheit. All such synthetic offspring must be females, since male offspring must be fertilized by the essential Y chromosome in the male sperm. But the ability to produce females exclusively in this manner is of no practical use to animal breeders, it is believed, because of the method's expense and complexity.

Chamberlain Says No Peace Till Menace Ends

By J. F. SANDERSON

LONDON (CP)—The British government is not hopeful that the Belgio-Dutch peace offer will lead to an armistice, it was indicated in a speech read at the Mansion House today by Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The speech, which surveyed the nation's war effort, was written by the Prime Minister, but Mr. Chamberlain was prevented by a sudden attack of gout from attending the luncheon of the new Lord Mayor, Sir William Coxen.

Dominions and our friends and Allies, who are standing shoulder to shoulder with us in the struggle."

Sir John read the speech in the blue and cream Egyptian room of the Mansion House. There was the usual lavish display of the famous gold plate of the city and high over the Lord Mayor's chair were the flags of Britain, France and Poland.

The speech referred to "this strangest of wars" and added it was not known when the present static warfare would be changed into violent conflict. But since the outbreak of war, he declared, the position of the Allies had strengthened rather than deteriorated.

The speech listed the Anglo-French-Turkish treaty as a "powerful instrument for the peace of southeastern Europe." Set against this was the Russian-German agreement, which "has gained indeed great advantages for the Soviet, but has brought only humiliation and loss for Germany."

"Repeal of the Neutrality Act in the U.S.A., he said, "reopens for the Allies the doors of the greatest storehouse of supplies in the world."

NEW WORLD

"We know that we cannot fail," he concluded, "and I cherish the firm conviction that we shall live to see the foundation laid of a new world in which freedom and humanity will have superseded oppression and the rule of force."

Nazis Threaten Harsh Reprisals

BERLIN (AP)—DNE, the official German news agency, charged that yesterday evening's attempt was made on Hitler's life "because it was thought that through the act Germany would be struck in the heart."

"Who are these murderers?" it asked. "We do not yet know the individuals or how they prepared the deed. But one thing we know — gold-givers, capable of such detestable notions, are agents of the secret service."

"And behind them stand war agitators into whose ears Jews are whispering."

"If anything could have strengthened our will for victory or made us more faithful to the Fuehrer, it is this attempt to murder Adolf Hitler."

"But England will learn to know us better. We will not be satisfied with half measures—that is the oath given at the bar of these dead."

"The German nation enters truly well prepared into the fight which now starts. If, up to now, we have shown consideration toward state enemies it should be clear that beginning today they will be treated so they are unable to threaten the life and security of National Socialists (Nazis) any more."

"In the future we will deal differently with those who become criminals for English gold. Let England be informed we are keeping an eye on the enemy. We know after this action that everything is at stake."

Zwoelf Uhr Blatt commented that when "Englishmen are faced by men refusing to submit to their criminal aims or blood-thirsty policy of suppression, assassinations have been staged or mysterious accidents have happened."

It was said repeatedly here that Hitler, unarmed, was aboard his Berlin-bound train before the blast wrecked the famous beer hall.

OTHERS ESCAPE

With him at the celebration of the 1923 beer hall putsch were Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels, Deputy Party Leader Rudolf Hess, Interior Minister Wilhelm Frick, Julius Streicher, Robert Ley and Sister Pia—the only woman who was among Hitler's early battlers. Several admirals and generals also had been invited.

All, however, were said either to have left with him or shortly after he started for the railroad station at the conclusion of his speech.

Economy Campaign

QUEBEC (CP) — The "three great principles" which Quebec's new Liberal government intends to follow in its administration of provincial affairs are "rigid economy, perfect co-ordination and practical efficiency," according to Premier Adélard Godbout.

Speaking over a provincial network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation last night, the Liberal leader "introduced" with short biographies the 13 members of his cabinet who had taken the oath of office a few hours before.

The "severe economy," however, would not be practiced to the detriment of the best interests of the province, said the premier, whose party won an overwhelming victory October 25 in the province's general election.

"We wish above all to give back to Quebec its good name," he said.

In his speech the premier designated for speaker of the Legislature Hon. Athanase David, who was provincial secretary in the Liberal government between 1919 and 1936.

British Examine
Many Ships' Cargoes

LONDON (CP) — Four United States ships were among 76 neutral vessels held at the three British contraband control bases on November 7, according to the Ministry of Economic Warfare.

The ministry said that last week the contraband committee "considered the cases" of 214 ships, including 11 owned in the United States. During that period four cargoes were seized, 102 released, and parts of cargoes of 33 ships were seized.

Shrinkage can be kept at a minimum if the executor and trustee is efficient, capable and economical. For example, this Company recently submitted to the owner of a $75,000 estate a plan that reduced possible shrinkage by more than $4,000.

ALL HOLLAND UNDER MARTIAL LAW—Strategic communities throughout the Netherlands were placed under martial law this week, following the departure of King Leopold of Belgium after a dramatic midnight conference with Queen Wilhelmina. Key areas in eight provinces have been under martial law since November 1. The latest decree takes in the remaining three provinces, all on the north-east border facing Germany. Included are the sections which would be flooded in case of invasion. Observers in London and Brussels believe the next phase of the war might involve the low countries. The map indicates the war strength of Holland and Belgium.

Will Germans Try to Seize Air Bases In Holland?

The following article was written for Havas News Agency by Lucien Romier, director of the Paris newspaper Le Figaro. He was a correspondent during the first Great War and is a well-known war historian.

PARIS (CP) — French military experts today expressed the opinion of an invasion of the Netherlands by German motorized forces would not be aimed at outflanking the French Maginot Line, but to establish German air bases.

Nazi planes operating against

Great Britain would save between 300 and 400 miles on every round trip between Germany and the British Isles if their starting point was from a base in the Netherlands instead of the Reich, it was pointed out.

In addition, the saving in time would amount to at least an hour on each flight. For large-scale operations, involving hundreds or even thousands of planes, the saving in gasoline would be enormous. With Germany's normal gasoline sources eliminated by the Allied blockade, this latter factor is of the utmost importance.

Another important aspect of the question is that it would be much easier for Germany to organize escorts to short-range fighters for their long-range bombers if the bombers could start from Germany and pick up their convoy of fighters in the Netherlands.

was emphasized here that to launch air attacks from the Netherlands, the Reich would not have to occupy all the territory of its little western neighbor. Germany probably would be satisfied with air bases, where its planes could take off and land, and which would permit them to avoid diplomatic exchanges over violations of the neutral sky over the Netherlands.

It is suggested here the concentration of German troops along the Netherlands frontier might be based on a German desire to duplicate the tactics employed by the Soviet Union in achieving naval, air and military bases in the territory of its little Baltic neighbors.

But what if Holland should resist the German pressure, as it has given every indication of doing? Then, of course, Britain and France would come to the aid of the Netherlands and British planes would be able to operate from bases in the Netherlands to launch attacks on German military and industrial objectives with the same benefits and economies the Reich would realize in attacks on Britain.

Another important difficulty the Reich would encounter would be intensification of the Allies' North Sea blockade. This would mean German invaders would have to feed several million people in the Netherlands, whose industry and agriculture are inadequate, even in time of peace, and must be bolstered by imports.

Still another difficulty for the Reich would be the effect the German invasion would have on world opinion, particularly in the United States.

FRENCH CAVALRY
SEEN IN ACTION

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN THE MAGINOT LINE (CP. Havas) — All advance predictions of war on the western front were that motorized units would dominate the fighting, yet French cavalrymen have played an important part in the no-man's-land between the Maginot Line and Germany's Westwall.

Usually the cavalry fights on foot, the men riding up to their positions and dismounting as soon as machine guns enter into action. On a number of occasions, however, French horse squadrons have thundered forward on old-fashioned charges against enemy patrols and have brought back information of value. A cavalry regiment twice has been cited in the army order of the day.

Germany has failed to unleash the "total warfare" threatened for a number of years by Nazi propagandists, and the result has been to favor individualism and individual exploits at the front.

Despite stringent military rules there still are instances of individual daring. They tell the story of the poilu who strolled nonchalantly between the lines with an open umbrella and returned unscathed.

Big Industrial
Additions in Canada

NEW YORK (AP) — Development of the industrialization of Canada as a result of the war is predicted by the National Industries Conference Board, a research organization supported largely by large industrial firms.

The board bases its prediction of accelerated industrialization on three factors:

1. The Dominion's geographical position is a valuable asset and plants could be built which would be virtually immune from attack by enemy bombers.
2. Canada is well supplied with many raw materials and can get many others required, by rail from the United States.
3. The growth in industry since the last war has increased her supply of skilled labor and her supply of capable managers.

Wellington Centennial

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP. Reuters) — Viscount Galway, Governor-General, opened the Wellington exposition, which commemorates the centenary of British sovereignty in New Zealand. Large crowds attended the inaugural ceremony. The King sent a message of best wishes for success of the exposition.

Open Antagonism
To Nazis in Reich

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Hugh Gibson, retired United States diplomat, told a Yale audience there was "open antagonism" in Germany towards the Nazi party.

"Hitler himself is never the source of comment, for the German population is appreciative of the fact that he has built up their nation to a first-rate power," the former ambassador to Belgium and Brazil said.

"However, Goebbels and Himmler do not share their Fuehrer's glory, for they are strongly detested."

START WORK ON WAR HOSPITAL

TORONTO (CP) — Work has been started at Taplow, Buckinghamshire, on Canada's first military hospital in England, according to an announcement by the Canadian Red Cross, which is financing its construction and equipment. It will be known as "No. 1 Base Hospital."

Under a British committee of the Canadian Red Cross, headed by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and Sir Edward Peacock, Canadian-born British banker, plans were approved two weeks ago for the temporary building, which will provide a 300-bed hospital, operating rooms and other facilities.

Cost of the fully equipped structure will be about $250,000, about one-fifth the estimated cost of a permanent hospital of the same capacity. It will be built on the Cliveden estate of Lord and Lady Astor at Taplow, where the Canadian Red Cross built a military hospital during the first Great War. Taplow is about 30 miles west of the centre of London.

Construction of the base hospital is not related to the offer made by the Massey Foundation, through Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner in London.

Guerilla Bands
Fight in Poland

By MAURICE CASTAGNE
Havas Staff Writer

CERNAUTI, POLISH-RUMANIAN FRONTIER — Regular army detachments are carrying on Guerrilla operations in at least four districts of Poland now under German or Russian control, according to Polish refugees who reached the border today.

They said the four districts are the forests in north Poland near Grodno, the hills north of Lwow, in the Polish Ukraine, the Pripet Marshes along the Polish-Soviet frontier zone and the Swietokrzyskie mountains, between the Vistula and Pilica Rivers north-west of Warsaw.

A body of German troops under a captain was reported to have been wiped out in a clash with guerrillas in the Swietokrzyskie mountains 10 days ago.

German authorities were reported disappointed by economic results of their Polish conquest, especially on the question of wheat. It was said that during the Polish retreat in the Posen zone, just east of the German frontier, hundreds of acres of standing wheat were destroyed.

The Germans also were reported encountering difficulties in attempting to transport Polish agricultural booty to Germany. It was said Polish communications were so badly damaged by German air attacks it will be more than a year before they can be repaired.

Labor Would Amend
Arbitration Act

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver Trades and Labor Council will draft several amendments to the British Columbia Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act for submission to the provincial Legislature.

Decision to submit the proposed changes in the act was reached at a council meeting at which C. E. Fitzgerald, representative of the Pioneer Mines local of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, discussed the strike which has closed the big gold mine for a month.

Drafting of the amendments will be done in conjunction with the provincial executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, it was decided.

Acquitted of Matricide

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — Frederick Albert Stirling, 41-year-old Merritt Indian, was acquitted by an Assize Court jury last night on a charge he murdered his 71-year-old mother August 4 last. Mr. Justice A. M. Manson presided at the hearing, which lasted two days. The aged woman, Mrs. Sarah Stirling, was found dead at her home in Merritt and the Crown charged she died after a beating. The accused yesterday denied in evidence that he was responsible for her death.

★ UNITY OF CANADA

NEW BRUNSWICK
Land of Beauty

★ NATIONAL UNITY
is vital to success of
Canada's War Effort

This series of advertisements was initiated many months prior to the outbreak of war. Its theme "Unity of Canada" was prophetic; a message that today is more vital than ever to all Canadians.

For in Unity lies the strength of the Dominion, and we, of the Automotive Industries, accept our full responsibility in working as well as writing towards this end.

Now, more than ever before, our plants and highly specialized equipment are Dominion assets; our skilled workmen, vital cogs in the wartime industrial set-up in which the production of units of transport looms more important than ever.

So remember, when you buy a Canadian-Built car, you are helping support an industry that distributes more than $22,000,000.00 in wages and salaries to many thousands of families dependent on the industry itself. Add to these the families that are supported by industries supplying raw and finished materials to the Automobile manufacturers, and you get an idea of what this activity means to the Canadian Home Market.

A busy Automotive Industry in wartime is a live asset indeed — a truly national war enterprise.

Hon. A. A. DYSART
Premier of New Brunswick

NEW BRUNSWICK OFFERS EVERY AID IN EMPIRE'S STRUGGLE

"In the gigantic struggle upon which Canada has embarked by the side of the Mother Country, New Brunswick offers every assistance in the hope that her contribution will so help to strengthen the hand of the British Empire that she and her allies will emerge victorious over the forces of lawlessness and aggression. Worthy sons of courageous fathers who served King and Country in the Great War are already offering themselves in their thousands. The great natural resources of New Brunswick, her farm products, the rich harvest of her forests, her fish, her minerals, are at the disposal of His Majesty. Her all-year ocean port of Saint John stands ready to handle the great stream of goods which will pour through from all over Canada to help the Motherland in her hour of great necessity. New Brunswick to the war has taken second place to none in her loyalty to the British flag and the British tradition — she is prepared to demonstrate this once more to the world."

Munich Explodes Again

SIXTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1923, 16 of Adolf Hitler's followers fell on the Odeonsplatz in Munich, paying the price of their decision taken in the famous Buergerbrauekeller the night before. The inscription on the monument erected to mark the spot reads: "Und ihr habt doch gesiegt!"—You have conquered after all. A few minutes after last night's celebration of the "Putsch" anniversary had ended, with der Fuehrer safely on his way to Berlin in a specially-constructed armored train, an explosion in the upper regions of the old hall was responsible for snuffing out the lives of eight Nazi stalwarts and the wounding of more than 60 besides. On their monument may well be carved: "Opfer des Wahnsinns"—Victims of the maniac.

German newspapers today, of course, are placing the blame on British agents and the Jews. Screams of one them: "England will learn to know us better; we will not be satisfied with half measures—that is the oath given at the Bier of these dead." All of which will be duly noted for what it is worth; but Nazi threats are already overlapping to such an extent that the Chamberlain government positively refuses to be unduly perturbed by them. Britain has prepared to meet anything the Berlin oligarchy feels like using against her—whether more bluster or more bombs. The attempt to place the blame for this latest Hitlerian blunder on British agents and Jews is comparable to the clumsiness displayed by the newly-installed ministry when international Communism was blamed for the Reichstag fire of February 27, 1933.

It is fitting to hark back to that incident. Adolf Hitler had been Chancellor for just a month. Three days after President Hindenburg had appointed him he issued a decree forbidding all Communist demonstrations in Germany. Elections were scheduled for March 5. There must be no mistake. Hitler had lost many seats in the previous contest. What better plan could be devised than the destruction of the Reichstag and its subsequent advertisement as an illustration of the tactics of Germany's international foe? (Shades of the Ribbentrop-Molotov pact of last August!) On February 27 the blaze fired the sinister imagination of the Nazi chief and a Dutch Communist, charged with working in behalf of Teuton-Socialists and Communists, was arrested. Just before polling day the militant Nazi daily, Der Angriff, said editorially:

"We have taken the irrevocable decision to root out the Marxist pest in Germany. On Saturday, the 'Day of the Awakening Nation,' there will be a resurgence of the people. Sunday, polling day, will be a judgment and atonement. Monday will see us, after an unexampled struggle lasting 14 years, the victors."

Although fear of repression did not deter members of other parties from voting, the Nazis increased the number of deputies in the Reichstag from 196 to 280, and, with their Nationalist allies, they were able to command a clear majority. But the new government was not happy; it required all the ammunition it could obtain to support its gradual procedure toward totalitarianism. It made its version of the Reichstag fire answer its purpose until other developments eased the way to its ultimate object.

It is worth recalling that at that time the ultra-Conservative London Morning Post and the Moscow Izvestia found themselves in agreement. "The only beneficiaries of the incendiary Dutchman's activities appear to be the government... everything that intimidation can do to win votes is being done," observed the London daily. "The whole world will have no doubt as to who needed to set fire to the Reichstag," echoed Izvestia. What of this? Things are not going well with the Nazi regime today. The explosion in the old beer hall at Munich last night may be analogous to the Reichstag fire of February 27, 1933, when votes were wanted for the Chancellor who had written an impressive sequel to the abortive "Putsch" of 1923. The last has not been heard of this latest example of totalitarian technique. As an excuse to justify more license it furnishes a striking commentary on the present mentality of its authors.

Revealing Flaws

HOW MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT DETAIL their observations on the conduct of the war in Great Britain is reflected in a verbatim report of a discovery revealed to the British House of Commons three weeks ago by Sir H. G. Williams, Conservative member for Croydon, a well-known engineer and a former undersecretary to the Board of Trade. Hansard quotes him as follows:

"Yesterday I walked around certain areas, and I went to a fire station, or, rather, stood outside it. I counted 10 motor cars with 'A.P.S.' on them. I saw quite a lot of ladies in a very attractive uniform, and by good luck one of them knew me, so we had a little chat about the system.

"I said: 'What do you do? Do you use your car to pull one of these fire engines about?' She said: 'No, I drive the chiefs about.' There were 10 people hanging outside one fire station in London to drive the chiefs about. While I was talking to her an elegant young man on a brand new motorcycle drew up, and I said to her: 'What is he doing?' She replied: 'Oh, he is taking dispatches.' I said: 'What about?' She replied: 'They are forms.' I said: 'Is there not a telephone?' She said: 'It might be bombed.' I said: 'It has not been bombed yet. Isn't there a letter-box?' This thing is crazy, and we have got to stop it."

Sir H. G. Williams was followed by Mr. R. R. Stokes, M.C., the wealthy engineer Labor member for Ipswich, who at the beginning of last year offered to make shells for the government on a basis of "no profit and no loss." It was refused, so he ran in a staunch Conservative stronghold and won it on this unique platform. This is what he said to the Commons the other day:

"I had a case brought to my notice where a particular surveyor in charge of a job was supposed to be employing a car in carrying people to and from this particular contract. He bought the car for £65 in June, and a fortnight later he traded it for a Chrysler. 'The car no longer exists, but he still continues to draw £11 a week for carrying people to and from the contract. It is an outrage, and the sooner the War Office get down to it and investigate it, the better.'"

If there are cases of square pegs in round holes in Canada, there should be no hesitation on the part of any member of the House of Commons at Ottawa in bringing them to the attention of the government, for only by such disclosures as those we have noted at Westminster can the national effort become 100 per cent effective.

More Pressing Matters

ALTHOUGH IT IS COMMON KNOWLEDGE, understood by the government at Ottawa better than by our own citizens, that the departments of the Dominion public service centred in Victoria are sadly in need of larger and more convenient accommodation, general approval will be accorded Mr. R. W. Mayhew's suggestion that the projected federal building for this city might well be left in abeyance until the restoration of normal times.

The Victoria member quite properly takes the stand that under existing circumstances—with a measure of unavoidable economic instability which is bound to make itself felt in more ways than one—the people of this community will very probably get a better job done for a more reasonable price after the present conflict has been brought to an end than they could hope to get while the exigencies of war are determining that those things likely to be instrumental in furthering the national effort against Hitlerism must have first choice. This and other matters scheduled to be undertaken by the Dominion authorities will by no means be forgotten. But they may well be left in Mr. Mayhew's hands. His record at Ottawa to date is sufficient proof that he gets done what he thinks ought to be done.

It is to be noted, too, the Victoria member is of the opinion that the section of southeastern Vancouver Island of which Victoria is centre is one of the most suitable spots—especially in winter time—for the training of air pilots. In view of the scheme to convert Canada into an Empire training school for flyers, therefore, this is another matter which Mr. Mayhew can be depended upon to press with vigor at the national capital. The Dominion government's substantial investment at Patricia Bay, of course, should speak for itself in this connection.

Perhaps the coming revival of the corset signifies the world is pulling itself together; but there we go—dreaming again.

The 10th anniversary of the great market crash of 1929 has just gone by, without anyone suggesting it be specially observed.

Toronto Star notes how in widely separated points in Canada community groups are claiming their home town is the ideal centre for this country's Empire aviation centre. Maybe they all are right.

The Dutch have flooded one area as an experiment to determine the practicability of such measures on a widespread defence scale. The legend of the little boy who plugged up the dike with his thumbs gives way to a new one of a little shaver opening all the valves.

Role of the Jackal

G.V.F. in Winnipeg, Free Press
Molotov's speech in Moscow confirms the assumption already made that Russia proposes in this war to play the role of the jackal. She will hover on the flanks of the belligerents, waiting for the prey to be pulled down. She will then take whatever share of it can be got without too great risk.

The protestations of friendship with Germany will be accepted in Berlin, as elsewhere, with a grain of salt. Russia is indeed Germany's friend today. Why should she not be? Has she not obtained, at the cost of neither blood nor money, half of Poland and her Baltic windows to the west?

What is there to wonder at in Molotov's denunciation of Britain as an aggressor? The lie is a cheap price to pay for the booty gained. But if the lie means the acceptance in the Kremlin of the doctrine that aggression becomes hallowed by success, Molotov and his friends will find themselves out of step with the world that will emerge when the Allied cause in this war has won its triumph. The shape of things to come is already limned on the horizon. It does not include any blessing for those who take part in the destruction of freedom and the dismemberment and partition of Poland.

Parallel Thoughts

Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.—James 3:24
As the flower is before the fruit, so is faith before good works.—Whately.

Across The Bay

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

CHANGED MEN

ONE KNEW THAT the war would bring breath-taking changes. Two of the most spectacular were visible in the House yesterday.

In prewar times Dr. Telford invariably ascended toward a Socialistic heaven in a fiery chariot. Yesterday he remained on the ground and fed the hogs.

Mr. Tom Uphill used to ride in a gallop, shooting up the town. Yesterday he read a carefully-prepared and generally grammatical speech endorsing the war and flatly rejecting the recent lukewarm notions of the C.C.F.

The C.C.F., indeed, seems to have lost two stalwarts in Dr. Telford and Mr. Uphill. Dr. Telford not only has withdrawn from the C.C.F. caucus, not only has ceased to advocate orthodox Socialist doctrine, but has moved into a sessional office of his own, into the dark cubbyhole off the Provincial Library which Mr. McGeer originally discovered, occupied and claimed as his own. Thus the incalculable, curious processes of politics have made Dr. Telford into Mr. McGeer's spiritual heir, both here and in Vancouver.

Mr. Uphill never was very far into the C.C.F., revolving rather as an independent planet, now closer, now further away, as seemed expedient, and doing rather well at it. He has revolved further away than ever from the Socialist group now because, a Britisher to the core, a veteran of the South African War, he is passionately behind Britain in this war. He is willing, he says, to co-operate with any government which is fighting the war and fighting Hitler, and with none of the reservations of the C.C.F., no demand for guarantees or war aims.

SADDER AND WISER

IT WAS A Sadder and wiser Mr. Uphill who stood before the House, with his written speech in his hand. Only once or twice did he permit himself even a little joke—and this the same Tom Uphill who used to convulse the House with his clowning, his flying hands and wild hair, his earthy miners' jokes and his dry references to his own indiscretions.

The war has made Mr. Uphill think, and his thought is that Canada isn't such a bad place to be in, for all its mistakes and failures. "The finest country in the world," he called it, and when some anonymous member sent him a note asking why he said that Mr. Uphill paused to retort that in no other country would the members of this House be elected. That, said he, proved the intelligence and the virtue and the opportunities of this country.

And where the C.C.F. complains that its liberty of speech is threatened, Mr. Uphill said there was no country in the world where a man could express himself as freely as in this "glorious country." And, anyway, taking back all the unkind things he had said last year about Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Uphill was for "my country, right or wrong."

RAG BAG

DR. TELFORD seemed to be a completely changed man—a ravening lion last year, now a sucking dove. Always in the past he has plunged into our social system like a child into a rag bag, scattering the contents so that they could never be sorted out again. Yesterday he tried to bring his speech under control, and succeeded somewhat, but not entirely. Some rags were still outside the bag when he had finished.

The social philosophy of Dr. Telford remains a mystery, especially to the C.C.F., from which he has now departed, spiritually and physically. Apparently he is not a pure Socialist, for when he finally tried, under questioning, to define his theories he advanced the unique proposal that where profits were to be made the government should go into business; where losses were to be incurred, private business could operate and incur them. The C.C.F. members looked puzzled. They have no theory equal to that.

HOGS

INSTEAD OF A GENERAL cosmic solution, like Socialism, Dr. Telford contented himself with a few minor improvements to the social system. He spent a lot of his time to prove that British Columbia should raise more hogs. Indeed, farm life seemed to fascinate him, and he revelled in bacon, mutton and grain for the best part of an hour.

Obviously he had studied a lot of figures, which were massed on his desk in indexed order and underlined in red ink, but they didn't fit together into any pattern you could discern.

Thus, while Dr. Telford, with a good knowledge of the grain movement, condemned Canada for holding up wheat prices and losing its overseas markets, he wanted Canada to produce its own products instead of importing them. He could not seem to realize that the policy of self-containment, of raising your own products under the essential protection of the tariff, is the very policy which keeps our cost of producing grain high in Canada.

Despite this contradiction his discussion of the grain movement, east and west, was sound and illuminating and bore out the contention, often advanced in these columns, that not enough grain is coming west owing to the machinations of the private grain trade.

HE WAS EFFECTIVE, too, in denouncing Mr. Pattullo's pet scheme for oil boring in the Peace River country. His figures were designed to show that even if oil is found it cannot be brought to Vancouver to

Who Owns Treasures Of Anglo-Saxon King?

A CORONER'S jury in England has been called upon to render a verdict in a strange case: Who owns the burial treasures of a long-departed Anglo-Saxon king?

The ship in which this ruler was interred more than a thousand years ago is a recent, very stirring archaeological find. Discovered inside a mound near the Deben River in Suffolk, the royal galley itself is little more than an imprint 82 by 36 feet in the soil. Yet badly rotted as the timbers are, even the roofed cabin in which the king lay can be made out.

The most likely guess is that here lay Redwald, first royalty of the East Angles to become high king of Britain. He died about 620 A.D.

More enduring and more exciting to behold than the ship itself are the rich possessions which courtiers buried with their king.

His sword pommel richly ornamented in gold and jewels has been found, although the trusty blade has vanished. The king's purse—or traces of it with some coins—lay there. And what seems to have been his sceptre is a curious object with bearded faces carved at each end. Gold belt studs and a handsome buckle and other trimmings are all that remains of his costume.

Then, there are six beautiful silver bowls and a platter with Byzantine designs on them. The 28-inch platter is right for holding the hearty servings a Saxon king would desire. The platter came to him from Constantinople, and is marked as having been in the reign of Roman Emperor Anastasius I, who died 518 A.D.

Arguing that this royal goods was not buried secretly with intent to resume possession, which is the English interpretation of "treasure-trove" that can be claimed by the state, the coroner's inquest has decided that the goods belong legally to the owner of the land. But the case of the king's treasure may yet be carried into high court.

THE REAL NEED

From Peterborough Examiner
Judging by the deficit of the World's Fair in New York it must have been found that the need was for a fair world rather than for a world fair.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

From Toronto Globe and Mail
It is a staggering fact that $32 out of every $100 expended by the federal Parliament, the provincial legislatures, municipal councils and boards of education goes to pay salaries and wages, and another $37 to buy supplies, equipment, contractual services, and the like, the cost of which is determined by persons in the public service.

compete with oil from foreign countries, Turner Valley, or even from Ontario, on account of the cost of transportation. As a taxpayer he objected to the government's plan to spend $200,000 next year and unknown amounts later to find oil which it couldn't sell if and when found.

Having abandoned the cosmic C.C.F. solutions, Dr. Telford advanced a plan to solve at least part of the unemployment problem by putting the idle on the land in co-operative, self-sustaining communities. That part of his speech was excellent, and his real desire to help the unemployed very apparent.

Apart from his appeal for the unfortunate of the country, he permitted himself no outburst of feeling, no allegations, no gestures, not even an attack on the government. As for the New Westminster Bridge charges, which engaged him last year with curious results, he postponed them, too, for duration of the war.

Altogether it seemed that Dr. Telford's flaming political youth was over; that, having burst into politics rather flamboyantly, he has now settled down to a quiet middle-age in the middle of the road.

MUST BE AUTHORIZED

To the Editor:—The Canadian Red Cross Society is now registered under the War Charities Act, 1939. This act protects the use of the name and sign of the Red Cross in the collections of funds. Every person who collects funds or supplies from the public in the name of the Canadian Red Cross Society must have the written authority of the society to do so.

It is an offence under this act to collect funds for registered funds without written authorization. The Canadian Red Cross will issue permits through its chartered branches for this purpose. A copy of the act is available for inspection at the office of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, 318 Belmont Building, Victoria.

STEWART G. CLARK, Chairman entertainment committee, Canadian Red Cross Society, Victoria City and district branch.

GREATER PRINCIPLES

To the Editor:—Premier Pattullo has suggested that the public should decide upon the issue, as to whether there is any greater principle than freedom of speech and action and liberty of conscience.

It is not very clear to me, why, because Mrs. Steeves would be sent to a concentration camp in Germany, she may not speak openly in British Columbia? Are the people of North Vancouver to see their elected representative muzzled?

As the widow of a volunteer, who has known too well the tragedy of a returned soldier, I would like to thank all those who have had the moral courage to speak in defence of this martyred generation, and of its liberties. GEORGINA M. ERSKINE, R.R. 1, Royal Oak.

A sailor does not have the sensibility to be surprised.—Admiral Mineo Osumi of Japan, when asked to comment on Russo-German pact.

A reasonable tax burden is an important part of sound social welfare planning.—John C. Gehart, director, National Economy League.

DISTORTED

To the Editor:—A statement made in reply to a telephone inquiry regarding the average temperature trend in British Columbia has become distorted beyond recognition. The statement emanating from the meteorological office was that the total rise of mean temperature during the last 30 years was between one and two degrees Fahrenheit.

It was added that it remains uncertain, as yet, whether the rise will continue or is merely part of a comparatively short periodic swing. The rate of even one degree per annum is absurdly large for any enduring rise.

W. A. THORN, Superintendent, Gonzales Observatory.

RUMORS AGAIN

From Toronto Star
"One of those rumors" got into circulation at Ottawa to the effect that the Red Cross was going to sell the socks knit for it, and some of the knitters turned in their wool as a protest—as a protest against an intention which did not exist. As the war proceeds, people will learn not to believe all the things they hear.

WANTS ELECTION

To the Editor:—In fairness both to the government and the people of Canada the federal election previously scheduled for this autumn should be held before troops leave Canadian soil, not after they are embroiled in Europe as seems planned at present. M. MILLER, Sidney, V.I.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "My brother married a widow woman."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "sirup, or syrup?"
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Condescension, coercion, suspicion.
4. What does the word "metaphor" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with om that means "foreboding evil?"

Answers
1. Woman is redundant. A widow is always a woman. 2. Pronounce sirup, i as in it, not as in sir. 3. Condescension. 4. Use of a word or phrase literally denoting one thing in place of another by way of suggesting a likeness. "The vessel ploughs the sea." 5. Ominous.

Weddings

PEARCE-FRAMPTON

A quiet wedding took place this afternoon at 2:30 in St. Mark's Church, when Rev. O. L. Jull united in marriage Gwendolyn Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frampton, Harriet Road, and Mr. Harold Angus Pearce, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Pearce, 55 Hampton Road.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dress of crushed mulberry wool sheer with black hat and accessories, with a topcoat of boucle in the grapevine shade with a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and violets. She was attended by Miss Elsie Anderson, wearing a two-piece wollen dress in teal blue, with black hat and accessories, and a beige topcoat with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. The groom was supported by Mr. Walter Barran.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for immediate friends and relatives, after which the couple left on the afternoon boat for Seattle. On their return they will make their home on Washington Avenue.

SUMMERS-McNEIL

VANCOUVER — Autumntitled chrysanthemums decked the Connaught room, Hotel Georgia, for the marriage Saturday afternoon of Jean, daughter of Mrs. McNeil and the late W. Rev. Andrew Roddan performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Tom McNeil, wore a navy blue costume with navy and white hat and accessories. Her bouquet was pink and white carnations.

Mrs. A. B. Scott, as matron of honor, wore wine velvet with matching turban and carried bronze and yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Harry Morgan supported the groom.

A luncheon party followed in the Patrician room, when for receiving the guests Mrs. C. Sorey wore poude blue and navy crepe.

When Mr. and Mrs. Summers left for a tour of Vancouver Island the bride donned a muskrat coat over her ensemble. They will reside in Victoria.

Provincial I.O.D.E. Met in Nanaimo

Reports Presented At Semi-annual Meeting Yesterday

NANAIMO — Two hundred delegates from different chapters in British Columbia attended the semi-annual convention of the Provincial Chapter of the Imperial Daughters of the Empire here yesterday with Mrs. Frank Stead, of Vancouver, in the chair. The annual meeting will take place in Victoria. Three local hostess chapters, Bastion, Collishaw and Malaspina, entertained the delegates at a banquet in the Hotel Malaspina this evening.

In her report Dean Mary L. Bollett, of the University of British Columbia, stated that eight war memorial bursary students were making satisfactory progress, and that three of the professional staff at present in the university had their higher education made possible by the same I.O.D.E. memorial bursary fund.

Among those attending the meeting was Mrs. H. L. Landry, of Prince Rupert, regent of the municipal chapter there, who, during 14 years' continuous membership in the order, attended for the first time the provincial meeting here yesterday.

Mention was made of the Creston, B.C., chapter recently organized, which received its charter at noon, and on the same evening held a banquet that netted $275. Speaking of the archives of the chapter, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, of Victoria, mentioned that the Triple Entente Chapter, Vancouver, organized 25 years ago with a starting membership of 20, had raised $25,000. She urged other chapters to complete their historical data.

A resolution unanimously endorsed authorized the Provincial Chapter to start an active campaign to bring to the attention of the people of Canada their right to privilege in a British democracy. Mrs. W. A. Sutherland, Vancouver, gave an outstanding address on "Problems in Canadian Unity." Mrs. P. E. Corby was applauded for an address in which she gave a comprehensive summary of the present crisis, mentioning women's place as assistants. Today nations looked upon war with deepest horror, as compared with a decade ago, when they approached it gaily, she added.

ARE YOU AGEING BEFORE YOUR TIME?

Why Not Study the Matter!

Some men and women, though no longer young, still preserve much of the overvitality of their youth. There are examples of it among your own circle of friends. Others have a different outlook; they seem to grow old before their time. Let us examine briefly a state of affairs that too often exists among people in every walk of life. Look at it frankly, with an open mind. Most people agree that many of the common ailments—heartaches, headaches, indigestion, constipation, and the minor ailments you mention the word "constipation"—they deny they suffer from it because they are "regular" every day and still are constipated!

Unless your body gets rid of poisons thoroughly and regularly you will have to "pay the piper." If you are fortunate you will escape severe pain and discomfort; more than likely you will "show up" under the mental misery of incomplete rest at night; you become irritable. Throughout the years Kruschen Salts has imparted untold benefits to mankind in almost every country in the world. For Kruschen contains several valuable, highly refined mineral salts your body requires in some form, to help keep you feeling at your best. The Kruschen habit is such a simple, convenient, inexpensive way. You take just "the little daily dose"—tablets in tea, coffee or in a glass of water. No product in the store today is more "modern," none more carefully prepared. Why not start right away. Give Kruschen a real trial during the next few months. Prove it for yourself. Lady Tweedsmuir Heads Sewing Bee

Over 125 Women Meet At Rideau Hall To Make Garments

OTTAWA (CP)—Like an old-fashioned sewing bee but with a touch of modernity, more than 125 Ottawa women are working these days at Government House, the Vice-Regal residence, fixing up clothes for Canada's needy as well as for the Red Cross and for children and adults abroad who have been evacuated from war zones.

Fitting her workshop scheme to the present emergency, Lady Tweedsmuir, wife of the Governor-General, thought because the Red Cross headquarters were so small that groups might work at Government House regularly. Ever since she came to Canada, Lady Tweedsmuir has had a work party at Government House, their endeavor for the past few years being mainly for people needing clothing in western Canada.

Now five groups are working at the stately residence in a room formerly used for billiards. The groups work six hours a day, knitting and sewing. With each party is an experienced knitter and an experienced seamstress. Her Excellency contributed four new electric sewing machines, several others were loaned by Ottawa women, making a total of 10 now in use.

Amputations Ball To Be Held Tomorrow

The passage of years brings a measure of forgetfulness—but the "Amps" are remembering a just cause and are holding their annual ball. Seven years ago the Amputation Association introduced a new form of ballroom entertainment into the social life of Victoria. Every year has added to its laurels. Prior to the festivities many private supper parties will be held, afterwards coming to the Empress Hotel where they can enjoy the smooth-flowing rhythms of Wm. Tickle's dance orchestra, with the latest dance tunes of the day.

The complete musical program follows: Extra, "The Tickle Song"; fox trot, "Comes Love"; waltz, "Start the Day-Right"; fox trot, "You Tell Me Your Dreams"; rhumba, "South American Way"; waltz, "Cinderella Girl"; fox trot, "Baby Me"; fox trot, "Medley on War Tunes"; waltz, "Tales from Vienna Woods"; fox trot, "El Rancho Grande"; supper waltz, "Loves Serenade"; fox trot, "Beer Barrel Polka"; waltz, "Shabby Old Caddy"; fox trot, "Medley on Military and Naval Tunes"; fox trot, "Over the Rainbow"; waltz, "Waltz Medley"; fox trot, "Stop, It's Wonderful!"; fox trot, "The Man with the Mandolin"; home waltz, "Roses of Picardy" and "My Buddy."

Daughters of England Lodge Primrose No. 32 will hold their regular business meeting tomorrow evening at 8 in the Sons of England Hall. The district deputy, Mrs. A. James, will be on her official visit.

A poppy wreath will be placed above the memorial tablet in the cathedral and all attending are asked to wear their poppies.

Canadiens to Battle Amerks

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

KAYAK II spotted Challeon six pounds and lost the Pimlico Special by half a length. In the average case the handicapper considers four pounds the equivalent of a length. But majority of the experts who saw Challeon "come again" on the old Pimlico strip believe Kayak II could beat Walter L. Brann's stayer at equal weights.

It was his "coming again" when Kayak II looked him in the eye and poked his hooded head in front at the head of the stretch that convinced the wise boys that Challeon is entitled to his place among the greats. Not a Man of War, perhaps, but Reign Count, Twenty Grand, Gallant Fox, Discovery, Seabiscuit and War Admiral might just as well move over... make room for another.

The race was not run to Challeon's liking. The Maryland thoroughbred prefers to lay well back and let those with early foot run out those with distance ability.

His racket is to run over horses in the stretch, but in the Pimlico Special he was in front immediately following the break.

Kayak II was all out at the finish. Challeon could have run all day and was drawing away.

He has demonstrated that he can lug weight... has won with 128 pounds on his back.

The beauty of Challeon is that Brann expects him to live up to the Challenger II line and be an even greater race horse at four, five and six.

A scion of the male line of Swynford, to which American racing owes St. Frigidus, Twenty Grand, Cavalade and Bold Venture, the baby with the black points and a dash of white on his forehead is as well bred as any horse that ever raced.

He's a solid horse... dry or wet.

Challeon's record might even be better had not Mr. and Mrs. Brann and Trainer Louis Schaefer bailed "Pete," as they call him, last spring.

Challeon had only one race under his belt when he came to the Kentucky Derby.

He might not have caught the fleet Johnstown that early May afternoon, but everybody attached to the Brann stable, outside of the owner and his missus and the trainer, said that it was a mistake not to have "put his belly on the ground," which is the swiftest way of saying hard work.

But it is fine to see such a grand sportsman as Walter L. Brann come up with such a splendid horse.

Brann has the welfare of racing at heart. Typical of him was his passing up much richer events to enter Challeon in the $5,000 Tranter Stakes at Keeneland simply because he liked the people behind the Lexington track and the way it is operated.

It was in the Tranter that Challeon made the old world record for a mile and three-sixteenths look extremely slow.

Brann is passing up the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap on next March for the $50,000 Widener at Hialeah because he winters in Florida and wants to see his horse run.

Who can blame him? Walter L. Brann no longer is interested in the size of purses and he really has something to see.

PROVIDENCE, D.I.—Pete Scanzio, 127½, New York, stopped Herbie Gilmore, 124½, Cincinnati (5).

SMART THREESOME OF CANADIENS.—In the concluding weeks of the National Hockey League campaign last year fans of the Montreal club were thrilled by the performances of the trio seen above. Left to right, they are: Rod Lorrain, Paul Drouin and Louis Trudel. They will be kept together as a unit this season.

MANITOA TO CENTRE

In any case, if Barry is unable to play, Coach Pete Lepine is ready to transfer George Mantha to his centre slot and use Armand Nodou, who missed the first game against Hawks because of a stomach ailment, as utility man. The remainder of the team is in tip-top shape.

The game gives Montreal fans the first opportunity of seeing Conacher, once one of the greatest forwards in the game, at a defensive post. Dutton recently changed the one-time "Big Bomber" into a rearguard and has expressed himself as "entirely satisfied" with Conacher's work.

The Americans-Canadiens game is the only N.H.L. contest scheduled for tonight, but on Saturday New York Rangers invade Toronto for a game against the Leafs and the following night three games will be played. Sunday contests are Americans at Chicago; Boston Bruins at Detroit; Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs at New York Rangers.

Chicago Books Still Operate

CHICAGO (AP)—As long as the horses are running the bookmakers will book them.

That appeared to be the general attitude today of nearly 1,000 Chicago bookmakers as they faced loss of direct wire service for the first time in 40 years.

The Illinois Bell Telephone Company had arranged to cut off their service at noon in compliance with a request from United States District Attorney William J. Campbell.

Time and Averages Will Whip Yankees

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—You can't add Mel Harder, ace pitcher of the Cleveland American League baseball team, to the list of those who think the world champion New York Yankees ought to be liquidated.

Mel has his own remedy for the monopoly the Yanks have taken on the American League pennant.

"Time and the law of averages will take care of them," said he. Mel, an Omaha boy, thinks the Indians might make it kind of tough on the Yanks next year.

The Indians, he said, are on their way. He doesn't predict any 1940 pennant for them, but "anyway we ought to end up in second place."

PAIR OF SOCCER GAMES ON SUNDAY

Victoria West footballers will be seeking sole occupation of the leading berth in the senior soccer race for the Garrison Cup on Sunday when they oppose Esquimalt at Bullen Park. Victoria City, bracketed with Wests in first place, will be idle and therefore will be unable to defend their lead.

Another Sunday fixture will bring together Saanich Thistles and Garrison at Hampton Road. These outfits have yet to mark up their first victory.

Wests have lost one game in league play this season and dockers made their first start last Sunday with a 3 to 1 win over the Rangers.

"Scotty" McKay will referee at Bullen Park, and Joe Obee will handle the whistle at the Saanich park game.

Kickoffs will be at 2.30.

PITTSBURGH—Jackie Wilson, 130—Pittsburgh, outpointed Armand Sicilia, 130, Chicago (10).

BOSTON—Bobby Managoff, 240, Chicago, defeated Danno O'Mahoney, 230, Ireland, two falls out of three.

Calgary Bronks Meet Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Blue Bombers' record in the Western Interprovincial Football Union this season is far more impressive than Calgary Bronks' and they have beaten the Albertans in all four scheduled games.

Brooks, who defeated Regina Roughriders 24 to 17 at Regina last Saturday in a sudden-death semifinal, come here Saturday to open the total-points title series.

Second game is scheduled for Calgary, November 18, but Bronks officials have announced it, too, will be played in Winnipeg unless the advance ticket sale approximates $4,000 by tomorrow night.

Bombers won 10 and lost two scheduled games this year to finish in first place, but neither loss was to Bronks. Western champions the past two years, Winnipeg beat Bronks 12 to 1 and 19 to 17 at Calgary and 19 to 18 and 25 to 6 at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Young Men's Hebrew Association, Manitoba junior football champions, will be minus "a good half" of their backfield power, but Coach Bert Warwick still likes the chances of his club in the sudden-death western Canada final against Regina Dales in Regina Saturday.

The Hebrews have been practicing nightly since they won the provincial title two weeks ago and will be in fine shape when they enter for the Saskatchewan capital tomorrow night.

Andy Branigan, plunging half-back and a star throughout the regular schedule, suffered a serious knee injury in the first game of the Manitoba playoff and will miss the Armistice Day final. The fiery Irishman will accompany the team as a spectator.

PROGRAM IS SET

LONDON (CP)—The racing calendar today announced that a normal flat racing program will be held in Britain in 1940 unless war conditions should take a turn calling for reconsideration.

The season will begin March 25 with meetings at Kempton, Birmingham and Newcastle, and ends November 23 at Manchester. Derby Day will be June 5.

Conditions for races for 1941-42, 43 also were published. In the event of changed circumstances the Jockey Club will endeavor to maintain as much of the program as practicable, and in event of cancellation will try to substitute fresh fixtures at a course where racing is possible.

BATON ROUGE, La.—Ken Kavanaugh, Louisiana State's candidate for all-American end, is also quite a baseball player. He plays first base, and it is rumored that Bill Terry's New York Giants are interested in him.

Bike Racing

CHICAGO (AP)—Cecil Yates and Jerry Rodman of Chicago clung to a one-lap lead today in the 42nd international six-day bicycle race at the Chicago Stadium.

On their heels was the Canadian team of Torchy and Doug Peden of Victoria, B.C.

Basketball Teams Force Special League Meeting

Canadian Football

Jenkins Makes All-star Team

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dave Jenkins of Victoria yesterday was chosen as tackle in a mythical all-star British Columbia Canadian football team, picked by coaches of the four teams in the Big Four Football League.

The selectors—Maury Van Vleet of the University of British Columbia, Brown of Knights of Columbus, Bill Bishop of North Shore and George Deacon of Victoria—picked three Revelers for a second all-star squad.

They were Andy Boland as back, J. McDonald as guard and Hank Rowe as end.

Varsity's Thunderbirds dominate the all-star teams—five being named on the first and five on the second.

The selectors chose Garney Smith, North Shore's fast backfielder; Danny Pearson, Varsity's ace punter; Fred Smith, youthful Varsity guard, and Norm McVey, Knights' efficient wing unaniously.

GREATEST PROBLEM

The backfield presented the greatest problem for the coaches. Harry Bullock of North Shore received the quarterbacking post after a close battle with Varsity's Fred Joplin. Jack Labelle (K.C.) and Graham Finlay (Varsity) received plenty of support, but Norm Moden (N.S.) edged Jim Harmer (Varsity) out of the final berth by the narrowest of margins.

Quint Dionne (K.C.)—the first team's centre, had a comfortable edge on Bill Bishop (N.S.) due to the fact that one coach insisted that Bishop should occupy the flying wing spot in the backfield.

The Thunderbirds' backs, Fred Smith and Bryan Martin, were admitted to be outstanding.

Hank Stradiotti (Varsity) came within one vote of being unanimous choice for one of the tackle positions while the "dark horse" was Dave Jenkins of Victoria, who was given the accolade as the other tackle.

He was followed closely by the Knights of Columbus pair, Gordon Kirkham and Joe Keyes.

Most outstanding absentee is Tommy Williams, Varsity's flashy back. The coaches contended that Williams' form has been far below that which he displayed in 1938 when he was the sensation of the Western Intercollegiate League.

H. EDWARDS NEW FIVE C'S HEAD

The Five C's Cricket Club elected Herb Edwards as its president for the coming season at the annual meeting of the group held recently.

A. W. Kerslake, secretary, and George Petch, treasurer, were re-elected to their offices, and Eric Quanton was chosen captain of the club team for the fourth year.

George Payne was named vice-president.

Leut. Governor Eric W. Hamber was chosen as patron again with Bishop H. E. Sexton and Dean Spencer H. Elliott as honorary presidents.

Vice-president of the club is Leonard Vaughan and Terry Peers was elected delegate to the Victoria and District Cricket Association.

Kerslake presented the 1939 playing averages for the Saturday and Wednesday leagues.

George Payne was top batter and George Hepburn was high bowler. Jack and George Payne were runners-up in the bowling.

Ronald Nixon was top Wednesday league batter with Gerald McIlveney leading the bowlers.

LITTLE LARKS

Remain On Top

Sylvester U-Drive tumbled to a 19 to 17 defeat at the hands of Little Larks last night to enable the birdmen to retain their leadership position in the second division of the Victoria Table Tennis League.

The Larks were beaten 17 to 15 in the singles matches, but a clean sweep of the doubles contests brought them through on the top side of the score.

Royal Arcanum found Aces an easy mark, emerging with a 34 to 2 triumph. All but two singles matches were won by the Arcanums. They took all doubles matches.

Scores follow:

Little Larks—Singles, Prior 7, Elworthy 5, Campbell 0, McGregor 3; doubles, Prior and Elworthy 2, Campbell and McGregor 2.

Sylvester U-Drive—Singles, A. Seed 5, E. Seed 6, T. Kay 4, W. Erickson 2; doubles, A. and E. Seed, 0. Kay and Erickson 0.

Royal Arcanum—Singles, MacKenzie 7, Lawson 8, Pretty 8, Ricketts 7; doubles, MacKenzie and Lawson 2, Pretty and Ricketts 2.

Aces—Singles, Gagliardi 2, T. Crombie 0, Mrs. Greenwood 0, Miss Downham 0; doubles, Gagliardi and Mrs. Greenwood 0, T. Crombie and Miss Downham 0.

First major attraction conducted in the building was the Canadian basketball finale between the Victoria Dominos and Windsor. Games in this series drew crowds of nearly 3,000 and despite the attendance the fans were well accommodated and expressed themselves more than satisfied with the new gym.

"Since taking over the Willows building the directors have spent approximately $3,600 to make it the finest gym for indoor sport in the history of Victoria. Within the last few weeks we have constructed three large dressing rooms, equipped them with heat and showers.

"The present seating accommodation for basketball is 1,850 and if necessary can be increased to 2,500. The sole purpose of the Sports Centre is to provide the athletes of this city with first-class accommodation to play their games. Any profit that may be made will be turned back into the building and its equipment. It is not the wish of the directors of this centre to make money out of sport for the benefit of any individual or group of individuals.

"In connection with our negotiations with the Victoria and District Basketball League, I would like to state the terms under which we offered them the use of the gym. On Wednesday and Friday evenings for league games the league would pay $10 and 30 per cent of the gross gate, less the 5 per cent government tax, to the Sports Centre. For exhibition games they would pay the Sports Centre 30 per cent of the gross gate. The Sports Centre would pay all expenses except the referee. The league would not agree to those terms.

"The league also objected to the Sports Centre handling the sale of tickets, despite the fact we offered them a complete check of all ticket transactions and handling of moneys.

"There is one more point that I would like to bring out at this time. The fact that we have provided the basketball fans of Victoria with a suitable gym is the reason why the Victoria High School gym has been refused to the league by the Board of School Trustees. It was only while the High School was the only suitable floor that it was available to basketball."

Troops' Welfare Veterans' Aim

"Our objective is to see that every possible effort is made to provide Canadian troops here and overseas with all possible comforts, entertainment and education," said Brigadier W. W. Foster, D.S.O., Vancouver, in an address here last night in which he outlined operations of the newly-formed Auxiliary Services for Canada.

Brigadier Foster is Dominion president of the Canadian Legion and director of the Ottawa bureau for the welfare of forces of the Dominion. He was addressing Canadian Legion officials of this district, pointing out the important part the Canadian Legion was being called on to do in the venture.

He returned to Vancouver last week after spending six busy weeks in the federal capital organizing the Auxiliary Services.

"The Auxiliary Service is an organization," he said, "to co-ordinate all elements and organizations for the purpose of securing the maximum services for the troops, and with another purpose, of effecting economy and efficiency." The co-ordination move would eliminate conflict of activities, he said.

Representatives have been appointed in each of the 13 military districts in Canada, with the exception of M.D. No. 11, which embraces British Columbia, for the purpose of co-ordinating the wartime service efforts, Brigadier Foster said. The M.D. 11 representative should be appointed this week, he said.

The legion's chief executive pointed out that the national veterans' organization was doing all in its power in the project. There were legion officials, legion finances and legion energy going into the effort to ensure its success, he said.

The experience and steadiness of veterans will be used where it is possible to direct and operate Auxiliary Services, the speaker told his audience.

One of the chief tasks of the Canadian Legion would be to set up the machinery whereby the young men who had enlisted before they could complete their education would be able to continue their studies. The legion will get the fullest co-operation of the National Department of Adult Education in carrying out this scheme. Other activities of the veterans will be to provide service bureaus in camps, organize parties and operate canteens. A subsidiary of the legion had

Timber Crop Must Be Planned

In the midst of British Columbia's greatest year of forest production, the problem of perpetuating the timber crop stands out more distinctly than ever. E. C. Manning, chief forester, told the forestry committee of the Legislature this morning.

Mr. Manning analyzed for the committee in some detail the submission on forestry made by the government to the Royal Commission and said he drew two important deductions from them; first, that the future of many agricultural communities would be jeopardized if steps were not made to perpetuate the forest crop; second that the province's continued prosperity must come from the assets of 98 per cent of its land which is nonarable. The chief assets of this nonarable land were timber and minerals. While minerals were a wasting asset that could not permanently support industry, proper care of the forests would provide a source of industry for all time.

Mr. Manning summarized his views briefly in this way: "We are overcutting in the coast district. We are turning capital into revenue. We are creating barren lands. Adequate provision has not yet been made for the preservation of our forests as a permanent resource. In a word, we are liquidating our greatest asset and leaving an impoverished heritage to our children."

Mr. Manning said that the forest industry could be safeguarded by using the present government revenues from forests for the purpose. At present the expenditures on forests were only 37 per cent of the revenue taken from them.

"Every dollar of forest capital needed to perpetuate the resource but turned into current revenue for other purposes will be lost many times over to the industry, employment and government revenues in years to come," he said.

Mr. Manning touched on the effects of war on the timber industry, noting an increased demand for pulp and paper, chances for a new market in the U.K. for pit props, and a probably demand for airplane spruce exceeding that of the last war.

With the provincial log scale running 30 per cent ahead of last year and waterborne exports 25 per cent ahead, this will be a record year in forest production, he said.

Mr. Manning said the department's new policy of forcing operators to burn slash had worked out well, with 52,000 acres burned last year and between 40,000 and 45,000 acres this year. There were no conclusive results to report on snag falling, enforced this year, but the industry was co-operating.

The chief forester said forest closures during the height of the fire season, while inconveniencing the public in some ways, saved the province heavy forest fire losses and large expenditures in fighting fires.

At one point Colin Cameron, C.C.F., Comox, asked Mr. Manning if he thought the cutting of timber should be controlled as a conservation measure.

Mr. Manning said the foresters took the view that it was important to keep men working and would not propose a restriction in cutting. The problem was to make sure that a new forest crop would grow on the cut-over lands.

Public Appeal To Open Monday

Preparations for the public appeal of the Community Chest to start Monday for a week's duration, drew to a close last evening with the inaugural meeting of the fifth canvass division, the business section group, at dinner in Spencer's dining room under the chairmanship of Warren W. Martin.

Seventy-five team members attended the dinner and received instructions on the objective of the division. It was the objective of the division to collect $8,000, Mr. Martin said. Last year the division's objective was $6,684. Duncan MacBride, campaign chairman, congratulated Mr. Martin on the organization of the division. He spoke on Community Chest work and emphasized the appeal of the Red Cross which was included in the Chest's objective to collect $100,000.

Miss L. Mess spoke on the children's aid work to which the Community Chest contributed. The work protected and safeguarded children, endeavored to improve home conditions and provided supervised foster homes along with other activities.

P. E. Winslow, president of the Community Chest, spoke briefly and said that solicitations already carried out by the central committee division, averaged 20 per cent higher than last year.

The majors of the business division, S. J. D. Clack, H. B. Witter and Archie Stickley for Captain T. Goodlake, also spoke. H. Lee was chairman of the Oriental section of the division.

The campaign director, Frank Paulding, outlined the organization of the Chest to the division members.

Following the meeting campaign officials, Mr. Paulding, Mr. Winslow and Mr. MacBride, met a delegation from the Victoria Trades and Labor Council in the campaign headquarters, 1205 Government Street, and discussed with them the work of the Chest. The outcome of the conference would be the sending of a recommendation by the Trades and Labor Council to the Community Chest to have labor representation on the Chest board.

Says He Bought Beer in Hotel

Hearing opened in the City Police Court this morning of a charge against Ben Pruss, Anthony Creet and Robert Welton, of selling beer. The case was remanded for further hearing until tomorrow.

The charge was the result of an alleged sale to S. P. Reid, a sailor, who testified he purchased liquor in the St. James Hotel on the night of October 30, and the purchase price was charged against his room rent.

Reid said he went with a companion to his room in the St. James Hotel, which he had rented for some time. He said he telephoned downstairs to Robert Welton, the night clerk, and asked for the beer. Welton, Reid testified, brought a dozen beer to the room and charged $2 for them. Reid claimed Welton had asked for part payment in order that he would not have to show the full amount for the beer on the hotel books.

Reid's companion, a woman, corroborated the story of Welton having brought the beer to the room after Reid ordered it by telephone.

Welton, called by the defence, denied the entire prosecution evidence dealing with the sale of beer. The $2 shown in the hotel accounts was an amount which had represented a cash loan to Reid when he came into the hotel on the early morning of October 31. Welton said he (Welton) had telephoned Pruss, co-manager, for an "O.K." of the loan after Reid had spoken to him. When Pruss approved then the loan had been made to Reid, Welton said.

He denied beer was ever sold in the hotel and that Reid had received any that night.

Pruss corroborated Welton's testimony of the loan, saying Welton had telephoned his room and he had ordered the loan.

J. B. Clearhue, K.C., appeared for the defence and C. L. Harrison for the prosecution.

New Companies

A slowing down in company registrations was noted today at the provincial registrar of companies office. Only four new British Columbia firms have been listed since the beginning of the month.

They are: Pender Mining and Development Company, $10,000, Vancouver; Point Grey Building Co. Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver; Mount Pleasant Auto Sales Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver; and Zeballos Coast Mining Co. Ltd., $10,000, Vancouver.

Water Survey On Rate Issue

A comprehensive survey of Victoria's water system with recommendations regarding installation of meters to determine where the city's water goes and in what quantities, will be prepared in the near future by Alderman John A. Worthington, chairman of the city water board, and G. M. Irwin, water commissioner.

The report will go first to the water board and then to the City Council. It will aim at providing machinery to establish consumption quantities, remove to a large extent speculation over leakage by establishing locations in which leaks occur, and will assist in the creation of a yardstick for rate setting purposes for consumers generally.

Alderman Worthington and the water commissioner returned from Vancouver today after studying equipment used in that city's system. They secured certain data which may be applied to Victoria's service.

In connection with meter installation proposals the Victorians studied pressure questions, methods of measuring water flow and means of avoiding leaks as well as equipment by which loss through the latter might be located without undue expense.

"We covered the ground thoroughly, secured what data we could from Vancouver's water board and other sources and acquired sufficient data to provide a comprehensive report to the water board here. It will be up to the board to establish a definite policy," Alderman Worthington said.

He declined to divulge the exact nature of the recommendations he would make to his committee, but indicated they would be wide enough to influence future negotiations with Oak Bay and Saanich over the rate question.

ATLAS TO SHOW 'LADY OF TROPICS'

With Robert Taylor and the much-discussed Hedy Lamarr teamed in an unforgettable story, "Lady of the Tropics," which opens tomorrow at the Atlas Theatre, is not only a production of unusual dynamic drama but an all-round feature of top-notch entertainment. The story is ideal for the two stars. Taylor falls madly in love with Miss Lamarr while visiting Saigon, Indo-China. He marries her, but then discovers it impossible to obtain a passport for her so that she can return home with him.

Oak Bay Screens 'On Borrowed Time'

Lionel Barrymore, who in his 30 years of motion pictures has established many a landmark, carves a new niche for himself with his superb performance of the lovable old outspoken Gramp, in "On Borrowed Time," which opened today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Others in the cast include Nat Pendleton, Henry Travers, Grant Mitchell, James Burke, Charles Waldron, Ian Wolfe, Phillip Terry and Truman Bradley. Harold S. Bucquet, directing, has won his spurs with a picture that is at once down-to-earth and yet lofty in its imagination and thrilling inspiration.

'PHANTOM STAGE' AT COLUMBIA

Veering radically from the conventional run of outdoor adventure films, Bob Baker's newest Universal musical western, "The Phantom Stage," comes today to the Columbia Theatre.

Differing from its predecessors, "The Phantom Stage" is declared to bring to the screen an entirely new type of western, "badman" character, a calculating road agent who robs stagecoaches like a magician.

Topping the big supporting cast is Marjorie Reynolds, who scored with her fine performance in Bob Baker's previous success, "Black Bahad.".

U.S. WAR EXPORTS MACHINERY STARTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Issuance of licenses for the export of United States war materials to Britain and France has begun at the State Department—but only in dribs and drabs.

Some officials who envisioned long lines of applicants waiting for the State Department doors to open every morning this week have been disappointed.

One reason for the delay is the fact the department had to prepare new application blanks. The new neutrality law requires more detailed information from the manufacturers and exporters of war materials than did the preceding act.

Companies which obtain licenses must submit to the State Department all the contractual details of their sales. The National Munitions Control Board must present these to Congress in semiannual reports.

Nearly $80,000,000 in export licenses had to be canceled when the arms embargo of the old act was imposed, but these will be reissued as fast as the applications come in and are approved. The canceled licenses were almost entirely to Britain, France and Australia, and called principally for airplanes.

Licenses issued in the next month or so are expected to total several hundred million dollars.

About 160 organizations have registered with the State Department for permission to collect funds for charitable distribution in the belligerent countries.

'JAMAICA INN' IS CAPITOL FEATURE

Few more thrilling chapters exist in British history than the story of the Cornish "wreckers" which Daphne du Maurier brought to light in her novel "Jamaica Inn," and which comes Saturday to the Capitol screen in the picture of the same name.

"Jamaica Inn" stars Charles Laughton in the most fascinating of his famous characterizations, and introduces to the screen a new Irish beauty in Maureen O'Hara.

As a cruel and aristocratic country squire Laughton conspires with a gang of wreckers, bandits who lure ships to be wrecked on the rocky coasts of Cornwall, and shares the profit of their nefarious trade. All goes well until he runs afoul of a pair of romantic youngsters, Maureen O'Hara and Robert Newton, intent on stamping out the wreckers.

JANE WITHERS IN DOMINION PICTURE

Jane Withers has some hilarious impersonations to offer in her latest 20th Century-Fox picture, "Pack Up Your Troubles," which is coming tomorrow to the Dominion Theatre. In addition to singing a new song—"Who'll Buy My Flowers?"—written for her by Sidney Clare and Jule Styne, she gives her impression of George M. Cohan and Eva Tanguay singing typical numbers.

The Ritz Brothers are featured in support of Jane, and Lynn Bari, Joseph Schildkraut, Stanley Fields, Fritz Leiber and Lionel Royce are included in the cast. H. Bruce Humberstone directed.

Irish Opera To Be Repeated

Owing to numerous requests the Victoria Grand Opera Association will present a repeat performance of Sir James Benedict's popular Irish opera, "The Lily of Killarney," at the association clubrooms, 1753 Rockland Avenue on Saturday, November 11, at 8.30 p.m.

The keen and ambitious spirit that exists among the singing members of the society was again shown last Saturday evening, when the group under the direction of Basil Horstall threw themselves wholeheartedly into the dramatic and musical plots.

The cast was chosen with careful consideration. George Farmer, with an excellent sense of characterization, took the comedy role of "Myles" and sang "The Colleen Bawn" in true Irish manner.

Among the notable principal roles was that of the dramatic "Hardress Cregan," played by James McVie. His tenor voice is steadily improving and mention should be made of his rendition of "Eily Mayourneen," and the duet, "I Come, My Heart's Delight," sung with Fraser Lister, who portrayed the role of "Danny."

All other principal roles were played very convincingly: Winnie Hall, the leading lady, as Eily; Ruth Shepherd, excellent as

Mrs. Cregan; Vivian McCahill as Sheelah; Arthur Jackman as the humorous Squire Corrigan; and James Matheson as the witty Father Tom, received an ovation after his singing of "Father O'Flynn."

Horace Culver was in charge of stage effects and Frida Horsfall was stage director. Frederick Kreigel was at the piano, and a large chorus added to the success of the production.

PLAZA THEATRE

"The Man in the Iron Mask," now playing at the Plaza Theatre, is the screen version of the great Alexander Dumas novel. It tells the dramatic story of King Louis XIV of France and his twin brother, Philippe. Members of the cast are Louis Hayward, Joan Bennett, Warren William, Joseph Schildkraut, Alan Hale, Walter Kingsford, Bert Roach and Miles Mander.

Pepys Saw 'Arch of Fire' a Mile Long

Oliver Cromwell had been dead only eight years when the Great Fire of London took place. England had become a kingdom once more, and the power of Puritan leaders was a thing of the past.

England still contained many Puritans, however, and their style of dress was followed by many of the "plain people." It was very simple compared to the laces and ruffles and wigs of the nobles and richer folk of the time.

PLAIN FOLK OF ab. 1660-70.

After telling about his fire warning to the Lord Mayor, Pepys went on with the story of his diary:

"People were almost out of their minds. They had no way of putting out the flames. The houses were full of matter of burning, such as pitch and tar. There were warehouses of oil and wines and brandy and other things."

"I met the King and Duke of York in their barge, and joined them. Their order was to pull down houses fast—but little could be done since the fire was spreading with such speed."

"We went as near the fire as we could without getting into thick smoke. All over the river, with face to the wind, one was almost burned with a shower of fire-drops. These drops and flakes of fire were blown from house to house, setting one after another aflame."

"We stayed until dark, and then saw a great arch of fire running from the bridge to a point a mile up the hill. It made me weep to see it. Churches and houses were all burning at once, and there was a horrid noise as the buildings cracked and fell to ruin."

"So I went home with a sad heart, and began to pack my goods. I moved my iron chests into the cellar, and got my bags of gold into my office, ready to carry away."

"At 4 o'clock next morning, I put as much of my goods as possible in a cart, and rode in the cart, clad in a nightgown, to Bednall Green. How crowded the streets were with people running and riding, and getting carts to fetch things away!"

After taking one load to safety, Pepys returned for his wife and for more goods. It seemed at the time that his house was not in close danger, but he feared the wind would change and sweep the flames to his dwelling.

HOROSCOPE

Friday, November 10

This is an unimportant day in planetary direction. There is a sign favorable to domineering and aggressive personalities. Under this configuration there may be closer alliance among world dictators. Women may be mildly helped by the stars today, especially in their hearts' desires. Under this sway sympathy may outweigh judgment, an influence which is likely to affect nations as well as individuals.

This is an auspicious day for writing letters. Love missives may be peculiarly welcome and encouraging. Good news of national interest may be expected late tonight.

This is not an especially promising rule for business. Trade in merchandise especially appealing to women may be fairly good, profiting jewelers and silversmiths. Many wedding rings will be sold under this configuration. The evening is favorable for entering orders.

The Philippines may offer novel problems. Imports will assume greater value and affiliations with the U.S. government will be closer. Food costs will rise, despite legislation forbidding profiteering. Leather will soar in price and it will be well to buy now a large supply of shoes.

Neptune is in an aspect that bodes ill for a naval engagement. South Africa, it is prognosticated, will display splendid loyalty to the British Empire, but a heavy mortality in war is forecast. A railway accident in New Zealand is presaged. The Dominions are to prove valuable in supplying grains and foodstuffs in large quantities. Losses of heavy cargoes of meat are prognosticated.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—We have been going together for three years. Do you think that is too short a time for a couple to be engaged before marrying? Do you think we could live on between $15 to $20 a week? Our furniture is all paid for and we have no debts.

LANKY.

ANSWER: I should think that three years would give you ample time to get to know each other and decide whether you like each other well enough to desire to spend the balance of your lives together. As a matter of fact, a three-year engagement should be ideal, for it is long enough to test out your affection for each other and yet not so long that love and romance wear out through weary waiting.

It may be possible for a couple to live on the amount you mention, but it will take fine managing to do so. It is a risk, and don't forget the danger of there being sickness or lack of work that may throw your budget into the discard.

DOROTHY DIX.

Fairfield Church Men's Club Meets

The Fairfield United Church Men's Club held its first dinner meeting in the church social hall on Tuesday evening with 30 members present.

Rev. F. R. G. Dredge of Oak Bay United Church was speaker. He talked on the opportunities of service open to men's clubs in conjunction with the church and spoke briefly on the development of men's clubs in other cities of the Dominion.

The speaker was introduced by Rev. N. J. Cress and a vote of thanks was extended to him by the chairman, J. Johnston and W. M. Halliday.

Community singing was enjoyed with R. Husband as leader and J. Barlow, pianist. Arthur Jackman rendered two solos, "Youth," and "A Sea Shanty," accompanied by George H. Peaker.

The next supper meeting will be held December 5.

Dr. L. Farrand Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Livingston Farrand, 72, former president of Cornell University, died last night at the New York Hospital. He was born at Newark, N.J., and had a distinguished career as an educator. He had been president emeritus of Cornell since his retirement in 1937.

B.C. Legislature

Telford Attacks Wheat Policy

Canada's wheat policy, and failure of the grain interests to get wheat moving through Vancouver, came under attack from Mayor J. Lyle Telford in the Legislature Wednesday afternoon.

He said the grain interests of Vancouver have got by "almost with economic murder." He said the Canadian government was paying $4,000,000 a month in storage and interest charges on the wheat crop, exclusive of any loss it might take on the guaranteed price.

Britain was buying less wheat from Canada this year than last, and more from the Argentine, because Canada held up the price, hoping to profit from the war.

While No. 4 Canadian wheat could be purchased for $28.23 per ton in Liverpool, the Vancouver price was $30, and, before the war No. 5 wheat could be purchased in Liverpool cheaper than No. 2 mill screenings for feed in Vancouver, he alleged.

While Canadian granaries were bursting with wheat, Vancouver had only 7,000,000 bushels in storage when it had a capacity of 20,000,000 bushels.

Mayor Telford said the government should launch a fight to get the grain moving west. Although it was cheaper to ship prairie grain to Britain by the western route the bulk was going eastward, he said.

Through the high domestic freight rate, Canada was subsidizing Japanese and other importers at the rate of $4.30 a ton on its grain, he said.

"If the people are not interested now they will be when they receive their tax bills, because they are going to pay for it," he said. The mayor argued that the grain problem was only one of the agricultural questions the government should tackle.

He said British Columbia would be a drag on the Allies so long as it had to import such foodstuffs as hogs, mutton, beef, grain and other indigenous products and should embark on an intensive program to have these articles produced in the province.

Mayor Telford roundly attacked the government's oil drilling policy in the Peace River, claiming the oil, even if it were found without cost, could not be delivered to the coast for the price that imported oil could be purchased.

"Do you object to the government going into the oil drilling business?" asked H. G. Perry, Liberal, Fort George.

"I don't object to the government going into any business as long as it is economic, but this isn't," retorted the mayor. "So you would let private capital develop the oil?" asked Mr. Perry.

"If there's profit in it, let the government do it, but if there's a loss in sight let private capital go ahead," the mayor said.

He produced a chart of tourist travel records going back to 1930 to show that ever since 1933 B.C. has had an unfavorable balance in the tourist trade. "Despite the fact the government has been juggling the figures and suddenly found out in 1935 that British Columbians spend much less when they are traveling than United States visitors spend here."

The mayor read a letter from the Michigan State Bridge Commission to the effect that they got steel for a bridge at $149.40 per ton and said this justified his charges on the Pattullo Bridge steel last year.

He concluded with a demand for a solution of the unemployment problem, proposing the government try, as a social experiment, his plan for a self-help co-operative settlement of lands.

Uphill Pledges Loyalty in War

Thomas Uphill, Fernie's Labor member, made it plain to the Legislature yesterday that he does not see eye to eye with the C.C.F. in their war policy.

Calling Canada the finest place in the world, he said he believed in the doctrine "my country, right or wrong."

There was no use asking guarantees for anyone at this stage of the game, Mr. Uphill insisted, and declared:

"There is no chance of peace for us while Hitler is at large. I express myself as willing to co-operate with any government choosing to do the best in their power to prosecute the war until we can rid Germany and the world of a tyrannical government led by Adolf Hitler, and make the world safe not only for democ-

COMPASSION

"Had He wished, God could have made man without a heart; but then, man would have had no conscience, no soul. A form of thinking monster, such a creature would have possessed the earth, only to murder his own kind; to die—and end with death—a brutish beast.

"Man, however, was given a heart. He has a conscience and a soul, to shape him the better in the image of his Maker. Tenderness, compassion, mercy, a desire to help his fellow men: these are the flowers of the heart. Never were they more necessary in the Garden of Humanity than today when so many weeds grow there.

"Man lays out his numbered days, getting and giving. Getting, he adds to himself. Giving, he enriches humanity, and himself most of all; for charity is one of the keys to Heaven—and Heaven is where the soul would rest when all is done. Think it, then, an honor to be asked to do something in the cause of humanity."

racies but for all people who want to live in a world filled with plenty of things they can enjoy."

Mr. Uphill admitted that last year he had criticized Mr. Chamberlain's policy at Munich, but said that since he had heard Mr.

Chamberlain's radio speech on war policy had changed his mind.

The Labor member said he thought the war controversy in the House might have been avoided if the opposition leader (R. L. Maitland, K.C.) had been a little more tactful and not accused the C.C.F. of disloyalty before they started to speak.

Mr. Uphill put in a word for court reform advocated Tuesday by Mrs. Laura Jamieson, C.C.F. Vancouver Centre, and a plea for a 50 per cent increase in relief allowances for the Fernie unemployed.

He advocated an increase in old-age pensions from $20 a month to $1 a day.

Mr. Uphill enlivened the debate with his customary Irish wit, and at one point set the House roaring when he was challenged to prove what a good country Canada was in which to live.

"How many of us could be elected—and that includes myself—to represent the people of any other country?" he said.

LONDON (CP)—Lord Templemore assured the House of Lords the government was aware of the importance of maintaining Britain's export trade.

He said that for exchange reasons Britain ought chiefly to export to the United States, Canada, Scandinavia, Holland and Belgium.

The board of trade was consulting with the major exporting industries, he continued, asking them to frame plans so the government would know what materials they required. He hoped the government would be able to allocate to export industries a supply of raw material so they could continue business with confidence.
